

Sun Microsystems Ad

I designed this ad under a tight deadline (only a couple days), as their in-house group did not have time to devote to it. To complete the project, I needed to quickly understand how Sun and SAS worked together, what the main message was that they wanted to convey, and provide a design that was attractive and that used the Sun logo.

take it to the nth

Sun is the #1 UNIX platform for SAS users. The strong alliance between Sun Microsystems and SAS Institute provides the experience and the demonstrated flexibility in responding to changing business information needs required to earn our customers' trust for long-term relationships.

Q. What combination of hardware & software will let me quickly transform information into competitive advantage?

A. SAS System software running on Sun Microsystems hardware
